Rudolph Kuchler was the permanent chairman and under his direction the entire business of the convention was expedited from beginning to end. There was much harmony and good feeling throughout the proceedings, the defeated nominees taking their defeat good naturedly, pledging hearty support to the candidates who were named for the various offices on the municipal ticket. Only in the selection of one office incumbent was there any show of a scrap. The fight for treasurer was the main event of the convention. F. L. Woods nominated Thomas B. Farr. Seth Thomas was placed in nomof a scrab. The fight for treasurer was the main event of the convention. F. L. Woods nominated Thomas B. Farr. Seth Thomas was placed in nomination by R. Pincock. D. R. Wheelwright named F. J. Hendershot and E. W. Wade presented the name of Fred F. Dalton. There was considerable scrapping during the nomination of candidates and five votes were taken before the delegates decided on the namines. Farr won out on the fifth bellot by a vote of 72 to 50.

For mayor but two names were presented to the convention—William Craig and Dr. A. S. Condon. It took but one ballot to decide the choice of the convention. Craig received 73 and Condon 51. In a short speech afterward Condon said he disliked being beaten for the nomination, but was glad that it took the best Republican in Ogden to bring it about.

E. T. Hulanski placed the name of J. D. Murphy in nomination were closed and the selection of Murphy was made by acclamation.

For recorder A. Power nominated W. J. Critchlow, the present incumbent, and J. B. McCracken named E. P. Brown. The fact that Critchlow had held the office for six years was the strongest argument used against him. One delegate put it; "Don't believe in establishing a kingdom." the vote was: Brown. 39; Critchlow, 34.

J. S. Bagiey nominated both Mrs. Florence O. Stanford for auditor and James H. Devine for attorney, and both were nominated without opposition.
